Flower Market shifted

COVID threat: Devaraja Flower Market to be shifted to J.K. Grounds from Oct. 23 to 25

File photo of make-shift Flower Market at J.K. Grounds.

Mysuru, Oct. 21- Anticipating heavy rush of visitors during the festive season, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner has ordered temporary closure of retail and wholesale flower market at Devaraja Market in city from Oct. 23 to 25.

MCC Commissioner Gurudatta Hegde has, in a press release, asked the flower traders to instead set up make-shift shops at the spacious J.K. Grounds near the City Railway Station as heavy crowd is expected for Ayudha Puja and Vijayadashami Day shopping during the said three days.

This is for the third successive festive season that the major flower market will remain temporarily closed as a precaution against COVID-19 which is spreading at an alarming rate.

The flower section at Devaraja Market is very congested and thousands of people throng the market to buy flowers for the coming Ayudha Puja and Vijayadashami festival. Since there are more chances of transmission of the pandemic, it has been decided to shift the flower section to J.K. Grounds. Marking will be done to erect the makeshift shops and to maintain social distancing, MCC authorities said.

It may be recalled, the MCC had taken such a step during Varamahalakshmi festival (July 29 to 31) and during Gowri-Ganesha festival also (Aug.19 to 22) this year.

Tourist inflow: MCC ramps up free COVID-19 testing

Mysuru, Oct. 21- Due to increasing inflow of tourists for the 10-day Dasara Festival in city, Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), in an effort to control the spread of the deadly COVID-19, has formed mobile teams to conduct COVID-19 tests free of cost.

Also, the MCC, in association with the Health and Family Welfare Department, has started COVID testing centres at 23 different locations of the city.

Speaking to SOM, MCC Health Officer Dr. D.G. Nagaraj stated that Corporation has taken this initiative to conduct testing on both asymptomatic and symptomatic patients in city, as there is increased inflow of tourists in recent days. Free testing will be conducted at these 23 centres from 10 am to 2 pm, he added.

MCC has appealed public to use the facility. Besides, if commercial or industrial establishments, educational institutions, Government or private organisations, want their staff to undergo COVID tests, they can contact the MCC, following which the mobile teams will visit their place and conduct COVID tests for free. Contact MCC Control Room on Mob: 94498-41196 or Ph: 0821-2440890.

Health Minister arriving in city this evening

To review COVID-19 situation and Dasara illumination

Dr. K. Sudhakar

Mysuru / Bengaluru, Oct. 21 (SSV)- Taking strong note of free and careless movement by citizens without following COVID-19 protocol, Medical Education and Health Minister Dr. K. Sudhakar is likely to visit Mysuru city this evening to review Corona situation in city and district.

Sources close to the Minister told Star of Mysore that Dr. Sudhakar was very shocked to see pictures of large crowd moving inside the city centre to watch Dasara illumination at all important Circles, main roads and traffic junctions without following COVID-19 guidelines.

The attitude of people had caused a big worry for the State Government as Mysuru city and district did not have the adequate number of oxygenated beds in case of outbreak of Corona positive cases. The neighbouring Kerala State did not have any fresh cases during Onam Festival but it started reporting thousands of Corona positive cases only after 10-15 days. Similarly, the number of cases may be less now in Mysuru but it may explode if citizens continue to flout rules post-Dasara celebrations, the sources said. The sources further said that the very purpose of sending the three-member Technical Team to the city well before the start of Dasara festival is defeated if the illumination was not stopped immediately.

Universities, Legislators adopt over 1,400 Govt. Schools

Bengaluru, Oct. 21- Amidst the COVID-19 contagion, Universities, Legislators and other dignitaries have proposed to adopt 1,414 schools across the State for developing them under the Government's Government School Adoption Plan.

According to Prof. M.R. Doreswamy, who heads the Government's Advisory Committee on Educational Reforms, there has been a good response for adopting Government Schools, with Universities, Educational Institutions, Legislators and the like, coming forward for adopting 1,414 schools.

Pointing out that several cinema personalities, IT/BT companies, Private Universities, Media Houses and other donors too have come forward for school adoption, he said that based on the recommendations of the Advisory Committee, Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa had announced in the Budget that all Legislators would adopt Government Schools under their Local Area Development Fund.

Later on many MPs, Legislators from both Houses and other dignitaries have assured to adopt more than a thousand schools collectively. While MPs have already adopted 135 schools, the MLCs have adopted 213 schools and other Legislators have promised to adopt at least 5 to 10 schools each.

The CM himself has adopted 10 schools, while three Dy.CMs have adopted five schools each and 21 Government-run and Private Universities have adopted 10 schools each. This apart, 200 Software firms have been appealed to adopt 100 schools each, Prof. Doreswamy said and added that the adopting organisations/ individuals have to take measures for providing necessary infrastructure such as furniture, classrooms, library, computers etc.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

With Phase 3 results of at least one vaccine candidate expected by late November or early December, the logistics of vaccine delivery are becoming just as important as vaccine manufacturing. Several components in this strategy must move concurrently between now and early 2021 so that last lap mishaps are averted. These include identification and prioritisation of beneficiaries for the first phase, manufacture of ancillary equipment like syringes and vials, setting up of cold chains, mobilising and training vaccinators, identifying physical infrastructure akin to polling stations for vaccine administration, and setting up an IT backend for data reporting and surveillance.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has asked officials to leverage the decentralised models followed during elections and disaster management. Indeed, both functions have a formidable reputation for quick mobilisation of government machinery and makeshift facilities. Other requirements like the cold chains essential to preserve vaccines and the IT platform for patient tracking offer value addition to public health going beyond the COVID pandemic. Broad categories of priority beneficiaries appear to have been finalised: Healthcare professionals, frontline workers like Police and Municipal staff, those aged over 50, and younger persons with co-morbidities. This requires an estimated 60 crore doses for 30 crore people in the first phase, which could be a long drawn out affair if supplies are inadequate. The modalities of funding – government subsidising vaccine companies or a DBT model and a paid option for well-heeled citizens – must be finalised too. The lowest cost estimates range between Rs. 50,000 crore and Rs. 80,000 crore, a huge amount. Given the financial and logistical challenges, releasing a vaccine rollout plan for States and health experts to review makes sense. A big unknown is the ability of States to secure last mile logistics due to the crippling economic recession. Exemplary Centre-State and public-private co-operation is needed to beat the odds.

Woman spikes coffee with sedatives to get her colleague fired

Milan: An Italian woman was recently sentenced to four years in jail after she admitted to spiking her colleague's drink with sedatives, so she would underperform.

Mariangela Cerrato brought coffees for her colleagues at an office in Bra, a town in Italy's Piedmont region. However, after downing her cappuccino in one gulp, one of Cerrato's colleagues, Alice Bordon, started feeling dizzy and lost her balance walking to her desk. She was taken to the hospital where doctors checked for a potential stroke, not knowing that something more insidious was at play...

Suspecting something fishy, Alice asked her colleague to brink her a cappuccino, but instead of drinking all of it, she only drank half and saved the rest for lab tests, which ended up confirming her suspicion. Caught red-handed Mariangela Cerrato later confessed that she spiked her colleague's coffee with tranquillizer, because she wanted to get her fired.

The Bonsai Forests of Masahiko Kimura

Tokyo: Masahiko Kimura is a Japanese bonsai artist famous for pioneering the 'bonsai forest' trend, in which several bonsai trees are planted on inter-locking wood or stone slates, forming tiny, whimsical forests.

Kimura started out in the world of bonsai art at the age of 15, as an apprentice to bonsai master Motosuke Hamano, at Toju-en Bonsai Garden in Saitama, Japan.

After 11 years, a young Masahiko Kimura decides to pursue bonsai art on his own, and ends up creating some of the most controversial bonsai artworks ever. It's hard to refer to bonsai art as 'controversial', but Kimura's style did ruffle a few feathers among purists of the art at first, as many of them considered that he was breaking too many of the craft's ancient traditions.

Steam inhalation Vs Coronavirus

Sir,

Coronavirus can come hiding from various known and unknown sources and the best shield to protect ourselves from the deadly virus apart from boosting immunity, wearing face masks, sanitising and following social distancing is "steam inhalation."

In countries like Japan, China and Taiwan the authorities have reportedly promoted steam inhalation in a big way and have largely been successful too. But in India, "steam inhalation" has not been projected as much as it should have been like other safety precautions.

Even from now onwards, our Government can channelise this safety measure among the public. If steaming is promoted on a large scale, we can surely overcome this pandemic faster.

It is cost-effective, easy to follow with no side-effects. Taking steam two or three times a day will chase the virus away. Hope the authorities concerned will throw more light on this.

Vaccine will be available to all citizens: PM Modi

New Delhi, Oct.21 (Agencies)- Noting that fight against Coronavirus is not over, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said work was going on in the country on several COVID vaccines and some of them are in an advanced stage of development. Government is making preparations on how a vaccine, whenever ready, reaches every citizen in the shortest possible time.

PM Narendra Modi

In his address to the nation last evening, the PM said situation concerning the development of Coronavirus vaccine in the country looks assuring. Scientists were working on a war-footing to develop the vaccine against COVID-19.

"After many years, we are seeing that work is being done on a war-footing to save humanity. Many countries are working on this. Scientists in our country are also working hard for the vaccine. Work is being done on several Coronavirus vaccines in the country. Some of these are in an advanced stage. The situation looks assuring," he noted.

"Whenever the vaccine against Coronavirus comes, the Government is also preparing how it (the vaccine) reaches every citizen at the earliest. Work is being done at a fast pace so that vaccine reaches every Indian. Till there is success in getting a vaccine, there should not be any carelessness. Also we should not let our fight against the virus weaken," he said.

Modi said there should be no let-up in the fight against COVID-19 and social distancing and wearing mask was the only solution till a vaccine is developed. In the last seven-eight months, due to the effort of every citizen, India is in a better position today. We should not allow it to deteriorate, we have to improve it further. People who are not following norms to prevent spread of COVID-19 were putting themselves and their families at risk. We have come across many photographs and videos in which it has been observed that people have stopped maintaining precautions. This is not right. If you are being careless and moving out of your homes without mask then you put your life and that of the elderly and children of the family in trouble."

He emphasised that the situation the country has reached in its fight against the disease should not be allowed to be adversely impacted. "Most of us are committed to our responsibilities and moving out of our homes to do our duties. In the times of festivals, streets are seeing increased activity. But we have to remember that lockdown may have gone but the virus has not gone away. The situation that we have reached in seven-eight months should not be allowed to impacted adversely. We are moving ahead after coming out of a difficult time, a little carelessness can stop our speed, impact our joys. Fulfilling responsibilities and following caution, if these go together, only then will the joys of life be protected," he said.

Helmetless riders beware !

- DL to be suspended for 3 months
- Helmet must for children above 4 years

Bengaluru, Oct. 21- Riding a two-wheeler without wearing a helmet will now lead to the suspension of Driving Licence (DL) along with fine. The move comes in the backdrop of an increase in the number of bikers being booked for not wearing helmets while riding.

The Transport Commissioner's office has issued a direction to Joint Commissioners of all divisions stating that the new rule is in sync with the directions of the Supreme Court to check deaths and injuries in road accidents and that it would be implemented with "immediate effect." The suspension of DL will be for a minimum of three months along with fine.

On Oct. 5, the Supreme Court Committee on Road Safety held a meeting with the Chief Secretary, Government of Karnataka and other Departments and directed the State Government to implement the rule of imposing fine along with suspension of Licence for not wearing helmet.

A file photo of City Traffic Police checking two-wheeler riders for pending traffic violation cases.

Mysuru: Sandesh Kumar, Assistant Commissioner of Police (Traffic), Mysuru, speaking to Star of Mysore, said that they are yet to receive the notification from the State Government and added that it would be implemented as soon as the order is received.

A senior official of the Transport Department said: "The rule has been implemented with immediate effect across the State. Both, the rider and the pillion should wear helmet."

According to Section 129 of the Motor Vehicles Act, every person driving or riding (otherwise than in a side car, on a motor cycle of any class or description) shall, while in a public place, wear protective headgear conforming to the standards of Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS).

In a significant move, helmet has been made mandatory for children above four years while travelling on a two-wheeler in Karnataka. In recent amendments to the Motor Vehicles Act, the Central Government had made it mandatory for children above four years to wear helmets while travelling on two-wheelers while exempting Sikhs wearing turbans from this rule.

Sulwadi Temple to re-open for devotees from Oct. 24

Sulwadi Temple was this morning being readied for puja rituals, set to begin later in the evening today.

Ahead of the re-opening after months, Sulwadi Temple was cleaned today (Oct. 21) and rituals will be performed for three days starting from this evening.

Chamarajanagar, Oct. 21- The Kichguth Maramma Temple at Sulwadi in Hanur taluk of Chamarajanagar district, which was shut down for over 22 months after at least 17 devotees died and over 100 others took ill after consuming poison-laced prasada in December 2018, will now be re-opened for devotes from Oct. 24.

Chamarajanagar Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. M.R. Ravi has passed an order on re-opening the temple from Oct. 24. Accordingly, the temple will be open for devotees from 10 am to 6 pm on all days. However, there will be no special rituals, pujas or sevas. Devotees are not allowed to stay in the temple premises for the night and entry of devotees from neighbouring Tamil Nadu has been banned.

Also, there will be no teertha and prasada distribution and devotees will not be allowed to touch Mahamangalarati Jyoti. Anna Dasoha (mass feeding) has been banned and devotees have to follow all COVID-19 precautionary and safety norms.

Also, children below 10 years, persons aged over 70 years and pregnant women have been temporarily barred from entering the temple. Besides, there is a restriction on devotees arriving at the temple in goods vehicles, lorry, tractors and such other vehicles.

The Kichguth Maramma Temple had hit national headlines for all the wrong reason as 17 devotees lost their lives and over 100 fell ill after consuming poison-laced prasada on Dec. 14, 2018. Now, 22 months later, DC Dr. M.R. Ravi has ordered re-opening of the temple for devotees with a set of conditions in the wake of outbreak of the deadly COVID-19 pandemic.

Accordingly, devotees visiting the temple and the temple priests and staff are required to compulsorily wear face mask and maintain physical distancing of at least 2 mts between them. Thermal screening and use of hand sanitisers at the temple entrance has been made mandatory. The public have been asked to report to local Health authorities or call the District Control Room (1077) in case any devotee is found having COVID-19 symptoms.

DC Dr. M.R. Ravi has asked the authorities to erect boards in the temple premises and at other public places mentioning the COVID-19 guidelines to be followed by the devotees.

He has warned that action will be initiated against those violating the norms, as per Section 2005 of National Disaster Management Act and Section 188 of IPC.

"Today, all over India, 7-8 lakh doctors, 9-10 lakh nurses, and thousands of Police officials were involved in the service of COVID-19 patients. But more than 12 lakh pharmacists working in different health sectors — like 2 lakh from Industry personnel, 50,000 hospital pharmacists, 60,000 pharma teachers and 2,000 State Regulatory Officers were also helping to contain the pandemic.

They can also play a pivotal role in tailoring interventions to the needs of the vulnerable population such as geriatric care, adolescent care, paediatric care, maternal care, family planning, people with special needs and palliative care and comfort care.

Dr. B. Manjunatha, Registrar, JSS AHER, thanked all the pharmacists for their role in the treatment of Corona patients.

Dr. Hanumanthachar Joshi, Principal, Sarada Vilas College of Pharmacy, spoke on how to improve health services for patients through the effective usage of therapeutic products and increase the importance of pharmacists in the medical team.

He thanked Dr. B. Suresh, President, Pharmacy Council of India (PCI) and Pro-Chancellor, JSS AHER, for switching many regulations from PCI time to time to uplift the pharmacist profession. However, still there are some issues in the pharmacy profession that need to be fixed for the betterment of pharmacists.

Dr. T.M. Pramod Kumar, Principal, JSS College of Pharmacy, Dr R.S. Chandan, Secretary, IPA, Mysuru Branch, Dr. B.M. Gurupadayya, Treasurer, Shilpa Palaksha, Mahendran and members of IPA, were present.

Communist leader Maruti Manpade passes away

Maruti Manpade

Kalaburagi/ Mysuru, Oct. 21- Senior Communist leader Maruti Manpade (65), passed away at a private hospital in Solapur, Maharashtra, yesterday. He leaves behind his wife and two sons.

Manpade, who was the State unit Vice-President of Karnataka Prantya Raitha Sangha at the time of his death, was admitted to ESIC Hospital a fortnight back and was later shifted to a private hospital at Solapur where he died on Tuesday morning, family sources said.

Manpade was a key voice of farmers and labourers in Karnataka, especially in Kalaburagi district and was more concerned about the growers of red gram, black gram and green gram — the crops that were extensively grown in the district.

He strongly opposed the duty-free import of pulses in large quantities from the big players, which had caused the fall of prices of domestically grown pulses.

Meanwhile, a condolence meeting, organised by the Mysuru District Committee of CPI(M), was held at Gandhi Square in city this morning.

No entry to Ch.Hill View Points after 6 pm

Mysuru, Oct.21 (MTY&SSV)- Entry to Chamundi Hill has been banned after 6 pm for visiting public and tourists with an immediate effect to check large gathering at View Points to watch the illuminated city flouting COVID-19 protocol.

However, this is not applicable to the Hill residents, security and temple staff.

According officials, people are allowed to the hilltop upto 6 pm and thereafter all entry points from Tavarekatte, Uttanahalli and Nandi Statue will be closed down. It has been observed in last three days that hundreds of persons are gathering at the View Points to watch the illuminated city which resembles a 'fairyland'. Many of them were found flouting Corona guidelines by not wearing face mask and social distancing. Along with tourists, even Mysureans also flock the Hilltop to have a glimpse of the lit city.

The officials said none was allowed atop the Hill on Oct 17, the day of Dasara inauguration due to closure orders issued by the District Administration. But, the Hill was thrown open from the next day due to pressure on the State Government from travel, tourism and hospitality sector delegation. This opened the floodgates for the crowd to flock the Hilltop without observing any safety protocol.

With a view to check spreading of pandemic, it had been decided to close all three entries to Hilltop from 6 pm. Those who reach the top before 6 pm, will be asked to leave from View Points by 8 pm if local Police found large crowd there.

Health Minister to review illumination

Meanwhile, another team that was sent to the city two days back to assess the current situation was 'shocked' to see thousands of people on the illuminated streets without face mask and safe distance. This was immediately brought to the notice of the Health Minister who in turn briefed Chief Minister B.S.Yediyurappa.

The CM is learnt to have asked Dr. Sudhakar to keep a close watch on the situation and take a strong call on daily illumination in due consultation with District Minister S.T. Somashekar.

"With a view to personally inspect the current situation, the Health Minister is coming to Mysuru today. He will review COVID-19 situation and also hold talks with the District Administration to discuss what could be done to deal with the citizens who are risking their lives as well as of others. One of the decisions may be to stop with immediate effect the illumination for the next five days anticipating heavy crowd. A harsh decision cannot be ruled out in the interest of the aam janata," it is learnt.

The sources pointed out that the City Police have utterly failed to discipline those who do not wear face mask while coming out on streets to watch the illuminated spots. It is not known how many asymptomatic patients or home quarantined Corona positive persons would come out to enjoy Dasara illumination thereby putting the lives of others in risk. The Police Commissioner was strictly told to book cases against people not wearing face mask but it was not known how many cases have been registered so far, the sources pointed out.

Corona cases drop in district

Rohini Sindhuri

Mysuru, Oct.21 (SBD&SSV)-The Mysuru District Administration has claimed that the number of Corona positive cases and casualty have declined due to ramping up of testing in City and District.

In fact, the number of Corona positive cases had breached 1,000 mark last month and stood second after Bengaluru in COVID-19 deaths. The number of positive cases which was 20.07 per cent in September has now reduced to 7.08 per cent. Similarly, the death rate too has dropped from 2.5 per cent to 1.1 per cent. The total number of testing has gone up from 2,500 to 4,000 per day.

Deputy Commissioner Rohini Sindhuri, after assuming the office last month, had sought two weeks time to bring down the Corona positive cases and casualties in the District. Accordingly, she has established free testing centres at 23 locations spread across the city and appealed people to undergo free testing.

In this week's Pet Talk, Maneka tells about symptoms & treatment of parvo in puppies

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

Can a puppy suffer from both distemper and parvo at same time?

Yes, a puppy can suffer from both distemper and parvo at the same time. Most puppies that are sold by breeders and pet shops usually have both.

Can parvo be cured?

Rarely but only if you catch it early. 85% of puppies die of parvo. Your vet will offer your puppy supportive care over the course of the illness, treating symptoms such as vomiting, diarrhoea and dehydration, and making sure that your puppy gets adequate nutrition.

What are the symptoms of parvo?

This virus slips into your dog unnoticed and triggers severe infections. When the virus gets into your dog, it takes 5 to 10 days to incubate. By the 11th day, you will begin noticing symptoms in your dog that are triggered by the virus. The first common sign of parvo in dogs is extreme lethargy. Your dog will sleep a lot during the day and show less activity. As the infection progresses, the pup will develop a severe fever. Vomiting and diarrhoea are other serious symptoms of parvo in dogs. In fact, it is the biggest tell-tale sign that the pup has parvo. Other symptoms may clear away, but vomiting and diarrhoea do not stop. The pup gets severely dehydrated as it loses more body fluids. If you suspect your dog has parvo, take him to a vet for a diagnosis.

There are no vets in my area. How can I treat parvo at home?

This is a step-by-step process. Here is what you need to combat the virus. I am reluctant to tell you because this involves giving injections which is very, very dangerous.

• Saline solution (Distilled Water works if you can't get a hold of saline); • Minimum 6 cc syringe [Bigger the syringe (not the needle), the better]; • 22 gauge needle; • Amoxicillin; • Tamiflu; • Pepto bismol; • Baby food; • Thermometer; Vitamins and minerals.

You can use distilled water in place of the saline solution. A 6cc syringe is perfect for a puppy that weighs about 2 pounds. You may need a larger dosage for a bigger dog. A 22 gauge needle is tiny enough to inject the saline water into your puppy. Any need larger than that can cause an injury to your puppy.

Parvo Treatment in Five Days

Day-1: You need to inject the saline solution (or distilled water) into the puppy's skin. Use your two fingers to pinch the skin at the back of the puppy's neck. This may be a bit hard if your puppy has lost a lot of water. But do your best in getting a fold of skin between your fingers.

Now fill the syringe with saline water and inject into the fold of skin between your fingers. Your puppy may yelp in pain. You have to ensure he is held down to prevent any sudden movements. Inject the fluid slowly into the puppy's skin until you feel a bump forming. The puppy will absorb all the fluids into its system. This will be repeated one-hour after the bump goes down.

Now we introduce Tamiflu to combat those flu-like symptoms caused by parvo. Tamiflu is not recommended after day 1. The flu symptoms tend to stick around for a while. We recommend getting several bottles of Tamiflu for rainy days. Monitor your puppies temperature. Puppies' normal temperature is 101.5 degrees F. If their temperature is high, cool them off with a wet rag. Apply the wet rag to their paws, butt, belly, and neck. If their temperature is low, warm them up immediately. Puppy fevers cause organ damage, and should not be taken lightly.

Tamiflu Dosage for puppies: Tamiflu comes in capsules of 75mg each.

Day-2: Ensure you are hydrating your puppy every 3 or 4 hours. Now, besides giving your dog IV fluids, you also have to kill the opportunistic infection ailing your puppy. This is where the Amoxicillin for dogs comes in. It kills the bacterial infection in your puppy's gut. With the infection gone, your puppy will regain its appetite. Your puppy may have bloody diarrhoea, and a teaspoon of pepto will help coat their stomach providing relief. If they seem weak, begin force feeding small amount of baby food.

Dosage: The recommended dosage for Amoxicillin for puppies is 10 mg per kg of body weight. Give your puppy the dosage after every 12 hours. This prevents the bacteria from developing resistance to the drug and kills it completely. Baby food should be given in small amounts. 1 to 2 cc of baby food at a time. Feeding small amounts at a time will help prevent vomiting.

Day-3: Continue hydrating your puppy with saline or distilled water every 4 hours. This is usually the worst day. Continue to monitor your puppy's temperature. Continue to feed your puppy 1 to 2 cc of baby food every so often. This will help with the vitamin deficiency.

Day-4: By this day, you should already notice major improvement in your puppy. Your dog should start showing activities like eating and drinking from his bowl. Take note he is still quite weak. Continue administering the fluid and antibiotics. During the vomiting and diarrhoea bout, your dog lost a lot of nutrients in his body. So introduce vitamins and minerals into his body on day 5.

Day-5: This is the day people are praying they can reach. If your puppy has been showing symptoms for 5 days and they are not getting any better, there is a good chance they are also infected with Coccidia. Nevertheless, if they are doing better we recommend getting a multivitamin and mineral tonic. Parvo takes a toll on your puppies' vital organs. Give your puppy the next ten days to recover completely with a gentle diet of khichdi, egg, dahi, lauki, a little haldi, tonics, oatmeal, and baby food like Cerelac.

It takes 7 days to cure parvo in puppies. You do not have to go for expensive medical treatment for parvo. You only need to rehydrate your dog, kill the bacterial and viral infections in him, and replenish the nutrients and electrolytes he lost.

T.P. Chlorigaster...

T.P. What...? Who is it? Sounds like a pedigree name for a nobleman, from an aristocrat family!!! Relax, it's neither a nobleman nor a pedigree name for a Royal Family. It's just the Taxonomical name for a Pigeon. The Yellow-footed Green Pigeon. Hasiru Paariwala in Kannada, Hariyal in Hindi-speaking areas and it has the honour of being the State Bird of Maharashtra.

Pigeons are a very familiar bird, both in urban and rural areas. They need no introduction. They are sighted in hundreds in Temples, Masjid minarets and as free-living pets in many homes. In fact, Pigeons are the only birds, that can be raised as a free-living bird. The Pigeons come in various colours and sizes and they are named after the colour, size and sub-species. Whatever size and colour the Pigeons occur in, they all have one thing in common, Red Legs (barring two subspecies, which have a greyish colour legs).

This is where our today's Pigeon steps in, steps in with Yellow Legs. The only member of the Columbidae family of Pigeons and Doves, to have such beautiful yellow coloured legs — The very reason they are called Yellow-footed Green Pigeons. They have yellowish olive-green body, duller above with a blue grey crown. Forehead, face often suffused pale olive-green. They have lilac patch on the shoulders and a conspicuous yellow bar in the blackish wings. A beautiful bird, that shuns human settlements, but stays on the fringes of villages and small hamlets.

These birds are fruit-eaters and they love the Indian ficus fruits. Any ficus tree in fruit-bearing season, (Ala, Goni, Athi, Arali etc.) is the right place to sight these birds. Being very shy and sensitive birds, approaching them itself is a difficult aspect. Very quiet by nature, living all by themselves, not pestering any of our farmers crops, these birds are very symbol of Peace and Serenity. These birds' pair for life, with a life-long bondage. They raise their young in a clumsy stick-laid nest in thorny trees. A gentle bird, devoted to their family and flock, not pestering any crop of ours, needs all the respect and protection we can offer.

The Yellow-footed Green Pigeon, our very own Hasiru Paariwala, does not ask us for anything other than 'Just leaving them alone... to lead their lives.'

Second phase of Cannon Drill for Dasara elephants, horses

14 rounds fired using seven cannons

Mysuru, Oct. 21 (MTY&KS)- With just five days left for Jumboo Savari, which is limited only to the Mysore Palace premises due to COVID-19 pandemic, the five Dasara elephants, led by Golden Howdah carrying elephant Abhimanyu, and horses from the Mounted Police Force underwent the second phase of cannon drill last evening. The first phase of the drill was held on Oct. 15.

The cannon firing drill is being held to acclimatise five Dasara elephants — Howdah elephant Abhimanyu, 'Pattada Aane' Vikram, 'Nishane Aane' Gopi and 'Kumki' elephants Kaveri and Vijaya — and the Mounted Police horses to the booming sound of cannons, so that they do not panic when the cannons are fired during Jumboo Savari.

The Dasara elephants and the horses were brought near the Varaha Gate inside the Palace, while the personnel of the Cannon Unit, using 1.80 kg gun powder for each of the seven cannons, fired 14 rounds at the parking lot outside the Varaha Gate. The Cannon Unit was led by ARSI Siddaraju.

Unlike the first drill, where a few horses panicked on hearing the booming sounds, this time the horses did not panic much. The five Dasara elephants stood firm when the cannons were fired.

Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) M.G. Alexander, Range Forest Officer (RFO) Surendra, Veterinarian Dr. D.N. Nagaraj, City Armed Reserve (CAR) Deputy Commissioner of Police (DCP) Shivaraju, Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP) Sudarshan and others were present.

Bhimashankar Bidanur on tabla, Neethu Neenad on flute, Ravikumar on rhythm pad, Pt. Venkatesh Alkod on harmonium and Chidananda Murthy was co-singer. WORD OF THE DAY

Shill

Pronunciation: SHIL.
Meaning: To act as a decoy especially for a gambler or pitchman; to act as a spokesperson or promoter.
Origin: Someone who shills today may very well be employed to simply extol the wonders of legitimate products. But in the early 1900s, when the first uses of the verb shill were documented, it was more likely that anyone hired to shill was trying to con you into parting with some cash. Practitioners called shills did everything from faking big wins at casinos (to promote gambling) to pretending to buy tickets (to encourage people to see certain shows). Shill is thought to be a shortened form of shillaber, but etymologists have found no definitive evidence of where that longer term originated.
Example: After his retirement from professional football, the quarterback shilled for a brand of charcoal briquettes in a popular series of commercials.

THE ODD WORD

Saltativeness

Ability to jump.

IDIOM OF THE DAY

The salt of the earth

Meaning: People who are described as 'the salt of the earth' are those who are considered to be of great worth and reliability.
Origin: The phrase 'the salt of the earth' derives from the Bible, Matthew 5:13 (King James Version): Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.
The positivity towards salt in this phrase conflicts with many other uses of the word salt, which has also been used express negative concepts; for example, in the Middle Ages, salt was spread on land to poison it, as a punishment to landowners who had transgressed against society in some way. It seems that the 'excellent' meaning in 'the salt of the earth' was coined in reference to the value of salt. This is reflected in other old phrases too, for example, the aristocratic and powerful of the earth were 'above the salt' and valued workers were 'worth their salt'.
'The salt of the earth' was first published in English in Chaucer's Summoner's Tale, circa 1386, although Chaucer undoubtedly took his lead from Latin versions of the Bible:
Ye been the salt of the erthe and the savour.

Dubai, Oct. 21- Kings XI Punjab (KXIP) continued their resurgence in the season, as they beat Delhi Capitals (DC) by 5 wickets to register their third consecutive win. Despite being bottom of the table two games ago, the K.L. Rahul-led side are now fifth in the Indian Premier League (IPL) 2020 points table, with eight points from 10 games.

They are tied on points with Rajasthan Royals (RR), but have a better Net Run Rate (NRR). Sunrisers Hyderabad (SRH), who have played a game less, have the chance to go above both RR and KXIP if they win their next match as they have a better NRR.

DC remain on top of the table, despite the defeat. However, both Mumbai Indians (MI) and Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB) can pull level with them on points if they win their games in hand.

The match saw the top three batsmen in the race for the Orange Cap fight it out. While K.L. Rahul and Mayank Agarwal fell cheaply, Shikhar Dhawan's second century in a row saw him break the KXIP duopoly at the top of the run-scorers' list. While Rahul is still the leading run-scorer this season with 540 runs, Dhawan is now in the 2nd position with 465 runs. Mayank is behind them at third, with 398 runs.

Kagiso Rabada, meanwhile, took two wickets to take his tally to 21 for the season. Mohammed Shami also took two in the game to move up to second in the race for the Purple Cap, with his tally standing at 16 this year so far.

However, Jasprit Bumrah, with 15, has a game in hand over Shami. RCB spinner Yuzvendra Chahal is next on the list, with 13 wickets.

BRIEF SCORES

KXIP: 167/5 (Nicholas Pooran 53, Glenn Maxwell 32; Kagiso Rabada 2/27) beat DC: 164/5 (Shikhar Dhawan 106*, Shreyas Iyer 14; Mohammad Shami 2/28) by 5 wickets.

Shikhar Dhawan becomes first batsman to score back-to-back hundreds in IPL

Dubai, Oct. 21- Shikhar Dhawan became the first batsman to score hundreds in consecutive matches in Indian Premier League (IPL) when he scored his second straight hundred during Delhi Capitals' (DC) match against Kings XI Punjab (KXIP) in Dubai yesterday.

In Delhi's last match, against Chennai Super Kings (CSK), Dhawan finished unbeaten on 101 as Delhi defeated CSK by five wickets. In this match, he got to the milestone off just 57 balls with 12 fours and three sixes after opening the innings for Delhi.

En route to this unprecedented feat, Dhawan also became the fifth batsman to cross 5,000 IPL runs. He is the fourth Indian to do this landmark after Virat Kohli, Suresh Raina and Rohit Sharma. David Warner is the only overseas player with more than 5,000 IPL runs.

Dhawan tore into the KXIP bowling attack from the word go, getting to his half-century off just 28 balls. This knock is the fourth successive fifty-plus score for the left-hander. He returned 101, 57 and 69 not out in his last three innings. Dhawan remained unbeaten on 106 against KXIP and helped Delhi post 164 on the board.

Overall, Dhawan has 5,044 IPL runs at 35.02 and a strike rate of 126.70 with two centuries and 39 half-centuries.

Dhawan is only the third batsman to score a hundred in IPL 2020, incidentally against the team that has the other two centurions — K.L. Rahul and Mayank Agarwal.

The Delhi batsman sits second on the top scorers list with 465 runs and he separates Rahul at the top and Mayank at No. 3.
